Sept 2, 11:50 am: Isro sets date for Aditya-L1 launch

Solar mission spacecraft aims to provide remote observations of solar corona fer the successful Chandrayaan-3 mission to the moon, the Indian Space Research Organisation (Isro) on Monday said Indias first solar mission Aditya-L1 to study the sun would be launched on September 2 at 11:50 an from Sriharikota. Aditya-L1 spacecraft is designed to provide remote observations of the solar voina and in-situ observations of the solar voina and in-situ observations of the Solar wind at L1 (Sunfarth Lagrange Points, which is about L5 million kilometres from the Earth. The space agency said in a social media post that the spacecraft — the first space-based Indian observatory to study the sum — would be launched using a PSIV-CS7 rocket. The mission, aimed at studying the sun from an orbit around the L1, would carry seven payloads to observe the photosphere, chromosphere and the corona — the outermost layers of the Sun — in different wavebands. Aditya-L1 is a fully indigenous effort with the participation of national institutions, an Isro official said. Indian Institute for the development of Visible Emission Line Coronagraph (VELC) payload while Inter-University Centre for Astronomy and Astrophysics has developed the Solar Ultraviolet Imaging Telescope payload for the mission. VELC aims to collect the data for solving how the temperature of the corona can reach about a million degrees while the sun's surface stays just over 6000 degrees Centigrade.

PRAGYAN PASSES FIRST LUNAR TEST

Isro sai that on August 27 the rover came across the crater that was three metres ahead of its location. "The rover was commanded to retrace the path," it added, following which it is headed on a new path.

Buoyed by Chandrayaan-3 success, Skyroot to double rocket launches

Skyroot Aerospace, which launched India's first private rocket in 2022, aims to double its planned launches starting next year on a likely boost to the country's fledgling private space sector from the success of the Chandrayaan–3 moon mission. The Hyderabach-based company, backed by Singapore's sovereign wealth fund, GIC, is also aiming to raise more money by the end of next year, co-founder Pawan Kumar Chandrana told Reuters in an interview. "From 2024 and later, we're looking at at least two launches per year and will probably ramp up as we move further," said Chandrana, whose company is set to send its second rocket to space by the end of the year.

Embraer launches campaign for transport aircraft to IAF

Two months after Prime Minister Narendra Modi met Brazilian President Luiz Indio Lula da Silva at the Group of Seven Summit in Hiroshima, Brazil has made a strong pitch for providing India with medium transport aircraft (MTA), for which the Indian Air Force (IAF) has issued a global tender.

Launching its MTA campaign in New Delhi on Monday, Brazil's state-owned aerospace company, Empresa Brasileira de Aeronautica S.A. (Embraer S.A. or Brazilian Aeronautics Corporation), briefed the press on the capabilities of its C-390 Millennium cargo lifter, which

Micro, small, and medium enterprises (MSMEs) in the steel

Micro, small, and medium enterprises (MSMEs) in the steel sector are poised for rapid growth on the back of robust demand from the infrastructure and building and construction segments.

An upswing in infrastructure spending, coupled with the government's push to a chieve multiple project targets ahead of the general elections in 2024, is driving this demand.

MSMEs in the steel sector mostly manufacture long steel products such as rebars and wire rods using induction-based furnaces and raw materials such as steel scrap and sponge iron.

Most of the sponge iron players import low-ash thermal coal to produce sponge iron. Hence, thermal coal has a material bearing on sponge iron produce sponge iron son sponge iron produce sponge iron and sponge iron produce sponge iron and the material bearing on sponge iron prices. India's crude steel capacity, They increased capacity by a significant 11 per cent on-year last fiscal. This fiscal, healthy domestic demand, along with dedining raw material prices, will keep their profit margins positive and utilisation levels high. However, next fiscal, as spending and the pace of project execution decline due to state and central government elections, demand is expected to fall. An increase in operational capacity and the slump in demand next fiscal will prompt market players to offer products at competitive prices. Consequently, their margins may shrink. Reduced steel price volatility will enable steel rerollers and traders to attain improved margin visibility. Inventory levels and working capital will also be healthy. However, higher capital rates and inflationary pressures will increase operational costs.
